IN ADDRESS AT DETROIT.

Within and without congress.
Fiefuse to Prepare.
We, through our representatives at Washington, said Colone! Rossevelt, have absolutely refused in the smallest degree to prepare during these twenty-two months of world calactysm. We have refused to learn the smallost, part of the lesson being written on the scroll of formen in Europe. We have fatuously refused to take the smallest step, either to do our duty to our selves or to de our duty to ourselves by announcing that in this policy of supine inaction and of failure to perform duty, we are actuated by the lotters. amounting that in this policy of supine inaction and of failure to perform duty, we are actuated by the lottiest motives. I doubt whether we have really deceived ourselves, and most certainly we have not deceived others. There is not a nation in the world which believes that our course of conduct has been diclated by anything save thirdity, unworthy shrinking from effort and responsibility, and cold and selfab love of money making and of soft ease.

ing that we will fit ourselves to detend ourselves a little, but not much. Such a position is equivalent to announcing that, if necessary, we shall hit, but that we shall only hit soft. The only right principle is to prepare thoroughly or not at all. The only right principle is to avoid hitting if it is possible to do so, but never under any circumstances in hit soft. To go to war a little, but not much, is the one absolutely certain way to onsure disaster. To prepare a little but not much, after a fire occurs, can put it out a little, but not much."

Wison Regime Fails.
Colonel Roosevelt declared that the Wison administration "has taken no step for preparedness, and has done nothing efficient to sustain our matchest ingless."

Because, he said, the administration had at intervals, "von thred feelily to speak in contradiction of its non-action," the ultra-pacifists and their followers have rejused it any whole hearted support. They object. Colonel Roosevelt added, "even to make-believe preparedness; they in sist on even more thorough-going help sist on the commercial cubt colonel Roosevelt asserted that "the extreme naval party in Germany has recently advocated war with the United States on the ground that in the end, as the result of such a war, we would have to may all the war expenditures of the Germanic powers and their allies."

"These enormous sums would be raised by taxation on all our citizens," ine said; "those of German descent would pay as heavily as those of any other descent; and all would share equally the shame and dishonor. that if the jury was not soon completed they would have to invade the estates of wealthy residents and pass by farmhouses and stores. When the examination of a new venire of 100 men summoned yesterday was begun this morning, Judge C. H. Donnelly repeated his caution to veniremen that they answer truthfully the questions asked and warned them not to seek escape from jury service by expression of trivial opinion. The court also announced that the literary test, the stumbling block which had sent many veniremen from the box, would be less rigorously enforced.

Veniremen will no longer be asked to define such words as hypothesis, irreconcilable, incontrovertable, circumlocution, which, since Monday, have led to the dismissal of many othewise apparently satisfactory jurymen.

w. Upham, chairman of the local committee on arrangements who returned from New York today after a conference with Chairman Hilles and other members of the republican national convention.

Strong planks favoring Americanism, military preparedness and a protective tariff for protection of American industries, it is said, will be among important subjects of the platform.

The plank on Americanism and military preparedness, it is declared, will be sufficiently strong to meet every reasonable demand of progressive republicans. It is said that prominent progressives who have recently returned to the republican party, will be consulted before the finishing touches are put on these sections of the platform.

Itondon, May 19.—Augustine Birrell, who resigned as chief secretary for Ireland after the Sian Fein revolt, appeared today as witness before royal commission which is conducting an inquiry into the Irish rebellion. The presence of the chief secretary aroused keen interest, in view of the dramatic testimony given yesterday by Sir Mathew Nathan, former under secretary for Ireland. Sir Mathew testified that the government has had advance information regarding the German plans for aiding the Irish rebells, and Mr. Birrell was expected to give more details on this point. At the outset of the hearing Mr. Birrell stated he had read Sir Mathew Nathan's statement and he did not know there were any additions or modifications he wished to make. He then read at statement which he had prepared and which he described as dealing in a general manner with Sian Feinners.

Figur Associated priess.]

Wilson Lane, 19 South Jackson street, entered a plea of nolo contendere in the municipal court this morning to a complaint enarging that he carried concealed weapons, without being a proper officer of the law, or empowered to carry a weapon. The complaint was made out by District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie and signed by P. J. Reilly, a young farmer residing near leyden, on a farm adjoining to a farm owned by Lane east of the city. The complaint alleges the offense was committed on May thirteenth, at the Reilly farm, and the offense is alleged to have been caused by a controversy between the two men over a bull owned by Lane. It appears that the bull broke out from the Lane farm and was confined by the complainant and during an argument, Lane is alleged to have drawn a revolver on Reilly. A civil action suit is possible between the two men. Lane was arrested by Chief Champion and made his plea in court in person. Judge Maxileld fined Lane the minimum amount a dollar and costs. his plea in court in person. Judge Maxifeld fined Lane the minimum amount, a dollar and costs.

Cantwell was first sentenced to the Green Bay reformatory, by Judge Maxfield. District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddide pointed out that Cantwell had been convicted of several felonies and under the statutes could not be sentenced to the reformatory. The court must get permission from the state board before the sentence of Cantwell can be suspended, because of the prisoner's adverse court record.

The young man had been paroled out to J. A. Austin, on a farm by Sheriff Chamberlain to serve a term imposed in the municipal court. Cantwell ieft the farm and escaped outside the county, returning some weeks ago, and was arrested for drunkenness on Saturday by the police. Cantwell was taken to the county jail, and his fate is in the hands of Judge Maxfield whether he will go to Waupun or be provided out to the state board. First Annual Pig Feeding Contest Is About to Start for Rock County Boys.

Entry blanks are about to be sent out for the first annual Rock County Pig Feeding Contest, which is to be conducted by the Rock County Live Stock Breeders' association and the county bankers. Every farmer boy in the county when he receives an entry blank for this new contest should sign up at once, so he may get an early start in the race for the prizes. One hundred dollars in prizes are being offered for the boys raising the best pigs. A place has been set aside at the Big Janesville Fair, which will be held in August, where all the pigs entered will be on show.

Pig raising means money and fun for the boys of Rock county. It it means this, then why not every boy every boy living on a farm in this county become a member of this contest. Like the calf feeding contest, the pig contest will keep the boy interested in farm work. It is one that will not interfere with his school work or keep him from having a good time.

Dame Nature has given Janesville by so many churches offer no induce-the Rock river to add to its natural beauties. Flowing down between the hills into the Rock river valley, this stream in an early date was quite an important element in the history of the little community. It is today. If one-tenth of the tin neglected portion of the city as it cussing flies, mosquitoes, and other were. It is unfortunate that this is true, but the fact remains that it does much to the disgrace of the city as a whole. Apparently there is no method by which these river banks can be cleaned and kept clean. Other communities see to it that conditions latest note, as it generously uses new similar to those that exist in Janeswille are not permitted, but something proposition. in our charter, something in our form of government, something in laxity of government, something in laxity has occurred and no one seems to have the authority to compel property-owners to clean and keep clean, and the property-owners do not do it something the boys off every value of the property-owners do not do it. and the property-owners do not do it on their own incentive.

Above and below the dams the river stretches forth into beautiful courses. Navigation of small boats to up river cottages, picnic grounds and camping places gives an opportunity for an outing that many an inland city would envy. In the past few years the upriver country has grown wonderfully. The cottages that have sprung up like magic along its banks, are comfortable outing and recreation places and enjoyed by hundreds during the week-ends and oftentimes for entire weeks. One visitor traveling up the river for the first time in a launch exclaimed over the beauty and pronounced it as beautiful as many stretches of the fa-

With this playground right at our doors why not enjoy it? Why not establish a park on the banks of this stream that could be reached both by boat and road, a public playground for the clivers? Such an idea has been the citizens? Such an idea has been contemplated for many years, but nothing definite done. Why not take the project up now and carry it through to a successful termination?

NO PUSSYFOOTING

This is the warning that has been issued by the supporters of M. G. Jeffris in his senatorial campaign. The issues will be fairly and squarely met. Mr. Jeffris will not talk to a Norwegian audience one night telling them one thing, a German audience the next, telling them a different thought and an extremely pro-ally audience with still another story. He will not talk to the manufacturers and the employers of labor and praise their methods and condemn labor and their methods and condemn labor and the next night speak to the working men and condemn the capitalist. He will have the same message for all classes and those who know Jeffris best say it will be a strong virile message that will be the thought of the speaker and well worth listening

The candidate is no pussy-footer.
He will talk right out in meeting, but his talk will not be socialistic or the conversation of a demagogue. It will be plain facts on matters of national importance that must be met in the next session of congress and faced squarely and not by equivocatoin. He will not conduct his campaign by villiforting of hi lification of his opponent but will state undisputable facts and the conclusions reached will be those of a man who has closely studied the situation and knows whereof he talks.

Mr. Jeffris' record is one that shows he is not a double dealer in politics. He is a man who has always stood on a broad republican platform and he is not a republican for office expecting to be a democrat in office. He will, if nominated and elected make a relunominated and elected, make a valuable addition to the United States senate and would do honor and credit to the state that it is hoped will elect him to represent their interests at the nation's capital.

SIMPLY FICTION. The democratic members of the ways and means committee are going to report substitutes for certain parts of the war tax within a week or so. They find that the stamp tax has become a political irritant, so they are going to get rid of it. But they are going to substitute other taxes, such as an increased income tax and a tax on munitions. They find it necessary to make up deficits by a continuance of special taxes and the change in the form is only due to the preparation of form is only due to the necessities of politics. The péople are asking too many questions. The first explanation offered for a continuance of a war tax is the decreased imports due

The Janesville Gazette to the war. This fiction has been kept up now for two years, and the country is still being gravely assured that the democratic party would not impose war taxes if imports were normal. This is a deliberate perversion of the truth, and only asserted in the of the truth, and only asserted in the hope that the ordinary citizen will not investigate. Let us look at some of the figures. In March of this year we had imports of 3214,000,000, which is $31,500,000 more than the imports of March, 1914, before the war, and three or four months after the Underwood tariff act had gone into effect. The figures for March of this year are figures for March of this year are nearly $59,000,000 more than in March, 1913, when President Wilson was inaugurated. They are $74,000,000 more than in March, 1911, fully $81, 000,000 more than in March, 1909, and $125,000,000 more than in March, 1908. What is the answer to these figures. The answer to these figures. The answer is that the Underwood tariff is bringing in, even today, such a flood of duty-free imports that all records are being broken, while sufficient revenue cannot be obtained through customs duties to pay the government bills. The maintenance of war taxes is for the purpose of making the deficit caused by a democratic tariff bill, and not because of a decrease in imports, or any effect of the war. LENGTH OF PASTORATES. One of the Methodist conferences ecently announced one hundred

Members of the faculty at the high school gave a farewell banquet last evening in honor of Miss Beth Bailey, who has been at the head of the domestic science department for the past three years. Miss Bailey will not return to the local high school next year. During the three years she has been at the school she as won many friends among the students and faculty and all regret that she is about to leave. She has also been very capable in building up the work in this department. The dinner last night was

WITH GASOLINE
An employe of the Standard Oil Company predicts that gasoline will go to 25 cents per galion before the advance stops. This, he says, is what the schedule calls for. After the first of next September, according to plans, there will be a decrease and the price will drop back to normal, or to about 15 cents. If the advance does not stop soon the Standard Oil Company will be obliged to throw in an automobile with every barrel of gasoline in order to market its product.—Portland Review.

C. R. Bearmore, secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, and Roger Cumningham of this city, attended the annual international convention of Y. M. C. A. s which was held in Cleveland the latter part of last week. Two thousand one hundred and seventy-three delegates were present at this gathering, which was the largest and most successful convention ever held. The meetings were held in the Cleveland Armory. Among the speakers present was John R. Mott, who is general secretary of the Young Men's Christian associations of the world. In his address he appealed for a special fund to help carry on the work among the soldiers in Europe. The convention assured Mr. Mott that show. The crowd in the bleachers composing the club's chorus, cheered madiv during the baseball sketch and the scene was most realistic, all being used to the end of "Boosting for the Janesville Cardinals, 1916," according to a steamer which was siretched across the front of the bleachers.

"JOLLIES OF 1916" PRESENTED AT MYERS LAST NIGHT WAS ALL THE NAME IMPLIES.

"Dainty Chorus Girls," Handsomely Gowned, Do Fancy Steps in Merry Whirl-Catchy Songs Please.

When the "ball game" broke up after the last and deciding run the umpire took his place on the field bench in front of the bleachers, the club soiloists in baseball togs took their seats beside him and the end men arranged themselves in their positions. On the left was Walter L. Carle, premier of Lakota club comedians, in eccentric garb of an amateur baseballist: Howeld themselves in their positions. On the left was Walter L. Jokes of the end men were for the

the vigorous applause with "Mavcreen," most delightfully given.

Of the comedy songs in part one
Earl Fuzzel in the Hebrew rag,
"Where Was Moses When the Light Went Out." in which the chorus joined, was well received, and Howard Clithero in "He Kissed Her on the Gang-plank," also scored a hit.
Carl Keller's solo, "Molly Dear", was keenly enjuyed especially as it gave opportunity for some rousing singing from the bleacher chorus which was also the case with Benjamin Kuhlow's song, "Where Did Robinson Csruso go With Friday on Saturday Night."
Walter L. Carle in "Neath the Silvery Dixie Moon", drew forth merited applause, and again the all together chorus was a feature. Part one closed with a rousing piece, "Wake up America", the solo part being carried most capably by Robert Scott Daily and the chorus sung with fine spirit by the entire club. It was an entirely effective closing for the first part of the enterisinment.

Part two introduced the famous Lakota Club beauty chorus composed of John Brown, Botious Kelly, Tracy Allen, George Berger, George Sherman, Frank Flaherty, Roy Alerrick, Harold Pelton and Louis Brown, Wearing brilliantly colored sport coats they brought down the house on their first appearance in the song "Are You From Dixie?" with Walter Carle carrying the air in his most acceptable style. Part two introduced the

From Dixie? with Walter Carle carrying the air in his most acceptable style.

The chorus beauties bow and smiled like true ballet belies and took the faucy, ranciful steps of their dances as though trained through several long runs instead of facing the terrors of a first night performance. They were called back again and again in both this piece and in the song by Dr. Richards. In a Cabaret Neath the Oild Egyptian Moon, where the chorus wore the latest mode in party frocks. In the latter number the men's chorus tomposed of Frank Birmingham, Frank Bumgarner, Floyd Kilmer, Edward J. Leary. Arthur Karberg, Percy Wiltzeus, John Hendeson and Carson Dungarner, made its appearance with several fancy steps with the "ladies." The men's and "girls" choruses also appared in the grand finale "Bring Amoning the July Roll" with Edward J. Leary soloist. Part two included a group of three songs by Robert Sout Dally, "Mighty Lak a Rose" "Nay, Nay, Paulino, and When You and I Werer Young, Maggie", which gave opportunity to display the versalitity of Air Dally vocal accomplishments. William Fox has discovered a girl whom he considers the most fascinating young woman in America. He has set his heart upon making her the greatest young film star in the entire world.

The name of this girl is June Caprice. She is seventeen years old. He has taken her right out of a New England school, bought her more dresses and beautiful clothes than any girl except some multi-millionaire's pampered daughter ever had or expected to have; he has sent her to famous photographers and artists for sittings and in a few weeks she will make her initial screen bow in a picture.

"I will wager," says Mr. Fox, "that the public will admire her and voice their admiration in terms even more extravagant than I have been accused of using since I first found this little lady in Boston.

Film Version of Rex Beach's Most Famous Story.

The film version of Rex Beach's "The Ne'er-Do-Well" will be shown at the Beverly Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday.

The picture was produced by the Selig Polyscope company of Chicago, and is one of the most remarkable pictures ever staged. Although it takes fully two and one-half hours to run, there is not a scene that could be eliminated without detriment to the continuity of the picture.

The acts are swift and full of incident, the exciting episodes numerous; and the tension does not let down in between times, as is the case with most pictures that are seen on the screen.

come of the little wastes noted, which is most common, is the failure to turn off the heat before the dish is removed. With gas and electricity it should not be turned on until the dish is on the burner. In many foods when baking, the heat that is generated will finish the baking with the heat entirely turned off ten minutes before taking from the oven. On ironing day if one burner is used, as it should be for most families, arrange the irons on steel plate which can be bought for a few cents, then cover with a saucepan with a handle to conserve the heat. There are patent arrangements that one may buy for ironing, but the home-made affairs answer fully as well.

When using the coal or wood range

When using the coal or wood range for ironing, it is a good time to have a large share of the oven baking done. Beans may be baked, casserole dishes, Indian puddings, and dishes that take a long time to bake. By tempering the heat almost an degree may be main-tained.

heat almost an degree may be maintained.

The woman who plans to use the whole range, oven and top, with her cooking is one who gets the best results from her fuel, when burning coeler. Wood. The triplicate dishes which set on one burner are great fuel savers if one is using gas, electricity or oil, as three wishes are all cooked with the heat from one burenr. When getting a meal on a gas stove and wishing to keep the dishes warm, is not raways easy.

One method is to have a large pan of hot water to set the food in, cover it and it will keep hot for 20 minutes. When buying an oil stove it is well to see that the burners run up near the dish, otherwise the cooking takes too long.

A careful study of any stove used

Wisconsin.

If asked about her fuel bills the average housewife will say, "I am just as careful as possible about wasting fuel." Most of us are careful about the large things, but "it is the little leak that sinks the great ship." Care about small wastes will become such a habit that the larger ones never occur.

In many towns, gas is so reasonable that anyone can afford to use it for cooking. Electricity is becoming more and more reasonable and even in country homes, in many places, is being used in some measure for cooking.

When buying an oil stove it is well to see that the burners run up near the dish, otherwise the cooking and stove used, is conditionally that the first work of the cook. Learn the dampers, how to reguleze the oven, study, the drafts and checks. There are still women who have used a stove for years that do not understand its simple mechanism.

When purchasing a new stove, it should be qualified to make everything clear in regard to dampers, checks and drafts, heating the oven and cleaming out the ashes from under the oven, if it is a coal or wood range. If oil, the cleaning of the burners and regulating the oven is important. With a thorough understanding of her stove is no need of waste on fuel bills.

Girls With Beautiful Faces or Graceful Figures

American girls have a world-wide reputation for beauty, but, at the same time, there are girls in our cities who possess neither beauty of face nor possess neither beauty of face nor form, because in these instances they suffer from nervousness, the result of alisorders of the womanly organism. At regular intervals they suffer so much that their strength leaves them; they are so prostrated that it takes days for them to recover their strength. Of for facm to recover their strength. Or course, such periodic distress has its bad effect on the nervous system. Put them on and come; conceived in the stubborn belief that they would bring about a good thing for Bibbs himself; and whatever the derstand. So secure was he in the result was to be, the son had no bitterness. Far otherwise, for as he looked at the big, woeful figure, shaklamity had befallen him. But he was ing and tortured, an almost unbearable pity laid hands upon Bibbs' throat, Roscoe stood blinking, his lip quivering; Edith wept audibly; Mrs. Sherldan leaned in half collapse against her husband; but Bibbs knew that his

It was over. Men in overalls stepped forward with their shovels, and Bibbs nodded quickly to Roscoe, making a slight gesture toward the line of waiting carriages. Bibbs gazed steadfastly at the workmen; he knew that his father kept looking back as he went toward the carriage, and that was a thing he did not want to see. After a little while, "It's too bad!" he half whispered, his lips forming the words-and his meaning was that it was too bad that the strong brother had been the one to go. For this was his last thought before he walked to the coupe and saw Mary Vertrees standing all alone on the other side of the drive.

She had just emerged from a grove of leafless trees that grew on a slope where the tombs were many. Against such a background Bibbs was not incongruous, with his figure, in black, gaunt trees at the cemetery three days so long and slender, and his face so long and thin and white; nor was the undertaker's coupe out of keeping, with the shabby driver dozing on the box and the shaggy horses standing patiently in attitudes without hope and without regret. But for Mary Vertrees, here was a grotesque setting—she was a vivid, living creature of a beautiful world. And a graveyard is not the place for people to look charming. She also looked startled and confused, but not more startled and confused than Bibbs. All his life Bibbs had kept himself to himself-he was but a shy onlooker in the world. Nevertheless, the startled gaze he bent upon the unexpected lady before him had causes other than his shyness and her unexpectedness. For Mary Vertrees had been a shining figure in the little world of late given to the view of this humble and elusive outsider. and spectators sometimes find their hearts beating faster than those of the actors in the spectacle. Thus with Bibbs now. He started and stared; he lifted his hat with incredible awkwardness, his fingers fumbling at his fore-

"No. no!" Bibbs protested, earnestly. 'Not in the-in the least." "It does, though," said Mary. "I had not intended to come to the cemetery, Mr. Sheridan, but one of the men in charge at the house came and whispered to me that 'the family wished me to'-I think your sister sent him. So I came. But when we reached here I-oh. I felt that perhaps I-" Bibbs nodded gravely. "Yes, yes," he murmured, "I got out on the opposite side of the carriage," she continued. "I mean opposite from-from where all of you were. And I wandered off over in the other direction; and I didn't realize how little time--it takes. From where I was I couldn't see the carriages leaving-at least I didn't notice them. So when I got back, just now, you were the only one here. I didn't know the other people in the carriage I came in, and of course they didn't think to wait for me. That's why-"

"Yes," said Bibbs, "I--" And that seemed all he had to say just then. Mary looked out through the dusty window. "I think we'd better be go-house just north of Mr. Sheridan's, please." The wheels began to move, and she leaned back beside Bibbs once more. "I noticed that he was asleep when we got in," she said. "I suppose they have a great deal of night work.'

Bibbs drew a long breath and waited till be could command his voice. "I've never been able to apologize quickly," he said, with his accustomed slowness, "because if I try to I stammer. She gave him a quick little glance.

Bibbs stared in blank perplexity, not knowing what she meant to do.
"Driver" she called, in her clear voice, loudly. "Driver! We'd like to start, please. Driver! Stop at the start, please. Driver! Stop at the said.

LEARN HOW TO SWIM

In a Series of Ten Articles Famous Expert Louis De B. Handley of the N. Y. A. C. Gives Advice to Beginners and Veterans.

Article No. 7. - Long Distance Swimming.

By LOUIS DE B. HANDLEY. [Copyright, 1935, by American Press Association.]

HIS branch of the art of natation has grown to be a favorite pastime and sport of American swimmers of both sexes. Some look upon it as an agreeable form of recreation to be indulged in for the mere pleasure it affords; others consider it an enjoyable means of physical development to be taken up for exercise and health; others again see in it laurels to be gained by testing their speed and endurance against worthy rivals. But for one reason or other it appeals strongly to all who have acquired aquatic proficiency. We had evidence a plenty last season of the hold it has taken on our competing swimmers, for large fields were the rule in all important Marathon contests. For instance, thirty-four men and youths bid for honors in the grueling twenty-two mile race of the New York Tribune, the longest ever held in during a swim of several hours is one

the correct movements until they can be performed mechanically. Few of our endurance swimmers pay sufficient attention to form. It seem to be the prevalent idea that strength and staming are the sole regulates to succeed. Yet it will be readily appreciated that if a defective stroke causes loss of speed and energy over a course of moderate length the double loss will increase proportionately the farther one goes.

It is well in training to swim no farther than one mile, as a rule. One may then accustom the muscles to the wanted action without danger of drawing too heavily on one's resources, and when it comes to attempting a particularly hard feat the stored fund of energy will stand one in good stead. Of course it is advisable at intervals to try out thoroughly one's stamina, but this should be done rarely, and never within a week or less of a race or important test.

None will question the fact that the up to date strokes—the trudgeon, crawl and trudgeon-crawl-yield more speed at the so called classic distances (in America from fifty yards to ten miles, for they have furnished all the obtaining world's records. Consequently the only objection which can possibly be raised against them is that they are too tiring for unusually long trips. But even such an objection is totally un-

It should be remembered that any stroke, to permit record breaking performances, must enable its exponents to obtain from their natural resources more efficiency, in both speed and endurance, than they could secure from its predecessors. It would thus be illogical to suppose that strokes which have proved their worth in all round competition are beyond the ken of any might cite dozens of cases in which women and young girls have held the latest strokes for several hours, and Charles Durborow of Philadelphia swam the trudgeon continuously for fourteen hours and fifteen minutes when he established the American record of nineteen and three-quarter miles over a charted course across tide.

It is believed by a number of authorities on the subject that the plain crawl, with its narrow, alternate thrash of the legs, is not as effective as the trudgeon for distance swimming in rough water, and it must be admitted that crawlers have so far found it impossible to maintain an action rapid and strong enough to drive them through heavy seas without being badly checked. It may be, however, that the youngsters now under way of development will overcome the difficulty as they grow to maturity. Years of practice are necessary to accustom the human muscles to new movements. and the crawl is of comparatively recent origin, so that today's adults have bardly had sufficient time to fit themselves thoroughly for endurance work. The rising generation instead has been trained to the wanted movements al. fitted, excludes the water entirely. most from infancy and may fare better. But this remains to be seen.

It is probable, all told, that the latest stroke, the trudgeon-crawl, will eventually establish its supremacy. The greater propelling force of the scissors kick is obvious, and the speed obtained from it can be maintained at very small extra expenditure of power by a gentle flutter of the fect between kicks. moderate speed enforced obviates the so that it bids fair to supersede both the mother strokes.

Abraham's Supreme Trial

By REV. B. SUTCLIFFE Assistant Superintendent of Men, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago

TEXT-God dld tempt Abraham.-Gen

God cannot be tempted with evil: and neither does he tempt any man to do evil. God tries his own from time to time to strengthen their faith and so give them more of himself and lead them into deeper and richer spiritual experience. He expressly says in the book of James. "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation, for when he is tried he shall receive the crown of life." Abraham had been tried by the Lord many times, but this last supreme trial has some characteristics which are common to many Christians' experience. Unexpected.

H is said that "after these things God did try Abraham." After a life journey of nearly one hundred and twenty-five years. After all the experiences which were packed into his life. After the birth and coming to age of the promised son. At a time when it could perhaps seem as though the life was completed and only needing the final touch of being taken away from the scene around him. He may have felt that now he could rest a little in his old age and, like Job, "dle in his poured forth the story of the healing nest." But there never is perfection miracles of Jesus—how he cleansed nest." But there never is perfection in this life and therefore the training is never done. Today's goal is but the starting point for tomorrow. Many of the Lord's people come to a time when they feel as though their life were complete. They have come over rough raths and hard ways. Trying experiences have been met, but it seems that these are all in the past and now, having passed them, they settle down as though there were an end of the testings and they had come to rest. But suddenly, in sweeps a harder test than any before. It comes all unexpected. Or they think they have conquered some part of the old nature and need not watch it longer. Then one day there comes the fierce attack, unlooked for and unexpected. But blessed is the man that endureth the unexpected temptation.

As far as the record goes, the Lord gave Abraham no word of explanation concerning the offering up of Isaac. God simply told lim to take his son whom he loved and offer him a burnt offering. Abraham was human, like ourselves, so we can readily believe that into his mind, as so often into our own, there sprang the question; Why? We desire to know so much of the to why God does this or that in his dealings with us. He applies the test written revelation as he did the Hebrews, but has not left himself altogether without a witness in nature."

Unreasonable.

God had promised Abraham that in lead should his seed be called. Isaac was the heir of the promises. Through the years of Isaac's youth Abraham knew that nothing could possibly take away Isaac's life. In Isaac was centered the promise of a great multitude, if anything happened to him, therefore, the promise of God would be of home effect. We can include the promise of God would be of large the promise saying, when sickness or accident threatened the life of his boy, that it was impossible for him to die or be killed, for how then could the promise be fulfilled? How unreasonable then the saying the saying when sickness or accident auditory. He quotes no Hebrew Scripture to these rustics of the www. Scripture to these rustics of the killed, for how then could the promise book of nature open before their ever it seemed to the saying when sickness or accident threatened the life of his boy, that it was impossible for him to die or be killed? How unreasonable then it seemed for God to tell him to take this boy and slay him. Would he not he tempted to ask. "How then will the promise be kept?" Would not the chares it was by faith he obeyed. His obsdience was prompt, unquestioning, uncomplaining, deliberate. He did not prompt in the reason for offering Isaac, strange as such a thing would seem. We did not wait to see how God would fulfill his promise, but by faith he offered up Isaac, of whom it was said, that "in Isaac shall thy seed he called." The secret of such faith leading to such obsdience is found when the test has been met and the victory won. has been met and the victory won. that then fearest God, seeing thou hast Paul, the referrer rises and renews bot withheld thy son from me." THE CRIPPLE AT LYSTRA. If there was one person above another that might be excused from going to hear Paul preach, it was that nameless unfortunate, the cripple at Perhaps unlike his fellow at the Gate Beautiful, he was not a public mendicant. If so, he would naturlic mendicant. If so, he would naturally shrink from the display of his infirmity. Again, he might say: "The throng will be sure to press between me and the speaker, so as to mar my pleasure"; or, "I have too little physical strength to endure the strain of listening to the discourse." Much smaller hindrances than club-feet and withered limbs keep neonle away withered limbs keep people away from the courts of the Lord's house today. * * * But none of these things deterred him. The text says, The same heard Paul speak"; but it should read, "He kept hearing Paul speak"; but it should read, "He kept hearing Paul speak." His hearing was not accidental, but designed; not occasional, but continuous. He said to friends each morning: "Carry me to where I can hear this stranger speak." There has set day after day the hearing he sat, day after day, his beaming countenance seeming to say, "Tell me more about Jesus." No captious questions were on his lips. He was like a little child—docile, trustful, loving. He was of the kind the kingdom is made of. He took the gospel in just as the tree does the wedge-shaped twig after the arboriculturist's incis-ion. He received with meekness the ingrafted word. * * * * Paul kept his eye upon his hopeful hearer. He length he read the unmistakable signs in the poor man's countenance that he had faith, not as our version has it, to be healed; but as in the original, to be saved, soul and body. Then Paul cried, "Stand upright!" Neither the apostle nor the cripple was disappointed. pointed. His moral and physical maladles were gone at the same instant. Paul in his missionary journeys touched human life in a great variety of conditions—refined and un-refined, educated and illiterate. In this instance he came in contact with the wild fanaticism of a rustic credulity. They had a tradition that Jupi-ter and Mercury had once, in human form, visited their country, whose very name perpetuated the legend. The people failed to recognize them and do having their city burned up, and their king changed into a wolf. The Lystrians of Paul's day proposed to be smarter than their ancestors. They hasten to offer divine homage. Here comes the priests with garlanded oxen. Paul is taken unawares. All the talk about the gods has been in the ver-nacular, into which the people had fallen in the intensity of their feeling.

What a mark of unconscious cumstances, the apostles enter their unbelief it is when we try to inquire as to why God does this or that in his very object in coming is to turn away from the vain figments of Jupiter and and then, before we meet it, we want to know the "why" for it. We show so much of distrust when hanging back us in heaven, earth, and sea; who up from doing as he says because we do to this time has let you follow your not understand. But God's trials are own course, not having given you a

Would not the tempter suggest that either God had forgotten his word or he was making a mistake, or that Abraham had mistenderstood the message? How often we are tempted to question the reasonableness of God's actions. But here again, if we understood all that God was doing, the walk by faith would be changed to sight. God wants not reasonableness but believers. And blessed is the man who endureth temptation even when it seems unreasonabls.

And Abraham met this test with aupreme faith. The book of Hebrows declars it was by faith he obeyed. His obedience was prompt, unquestioning uncomplaining, deliberate. The Blessings of Peace: How To Get Them.

Never in the world's history has the desirability and value of peace been more conspicuous than now. But the peace of Christ is not the merister of the individual which is condition of the individual which is universal would make Krupp guns, however desirable that may be. It is an inward condition of the individual which is universal would make Krupp guns impossible. Jesus and his disciples on that last night before his crucifixion constituted not merely the norm, but the germ cell of a new social order. However it may look at times the substantial growth of the new order does not admit of question. This constitutes the Kingdom of Hoaven on earth, the substance of which is righteousness, and the condition is not to supplant the existing governments, but it is to transfuse them with its principles, that they shall thus to all intents become the "kingdoms of our Lord" Then right counsess will have become practically universal, and consequently and of necessity, peace and joy will also independent of the millenial years of the prophet when there shall be no more scenes such as the world shudders at today, and it will be no longer necessary for med, to even "learn received and training department in the work in drawing by Miss Guilliord, the manual training department in the work in drawing by Miss Guilliord, the weak in charge of the deminist science classes. With Silverthorn to Catch for Cardinals.

A new catcher, Oliver McGloon, from the Cedar Rapids, lowa club, was secured by Manager Caidow for the Cardinals, and if McGloon shows the "goods" in the game Saturday, he will be kept all season. This player was with the Cedar Rapids club and lost life first string catching job when Frank Chance sont one of his Los Angeles backstops to the Jowa minor lengue and McGloon lost out. Pitcher Ruth was in Janesville yesterday and the two men had a work out at the diamond in the afternoon. Ruth is likely to remain here for the season either pitching or playing shortstop, as he is reported to be a shifty infielder and a consistent clouter. The Cardinals probably have a rare find in O'Hayer, the Pacific coast first sacker, who will be here Sunday for the game with Madison. O'Hayer should be able to show Buser Keene of Beloit a few stunts on playing and if he cannot, Janesville fans here don't want him. Boose will probably start at third with Blake at short, and with Philapps of Beloit on the bench to start. Miller, the little Peorla singer, will play one field with Chamberlain and Illoley guarding the other two gardens.

The strength of this team cannot be determined until the players tere out the Cincinnati and little proposed in the players treated.

will play one neig with Chamberlan and Hibley guarding the other two gardens.

The strength of this team cannot be determined until the players trot out on the diamond and show their worth. Fleming and English, Silverthorn and McGloon will be the battery on hand Sunday to stem the Madison batsmen. If these players are not good enough to "clean-up" clubs in the west and take their, share of games from Beloit, the backers of the Cardinals promise to go out and get better, but if they demonstrate they can play ball, the majority of them will be retained for the full season.

All that is needed to make baseball a success in this city this summer, is some support from the fans and there is every reason to believe that the opening game with Madison will attract a large attendance.

There was a rumor the other day that Wahoo Sam Crawford was through. Then the next day Sambanged out two hits, one a double. The veteran outfielder, while a little slower than last year, can still hit the ball, and there is no chance of Jennings benching him for a young player.

When the season started it was thought that Willie Mitchell, Guy Morton and Rip Hagerman would be the mainstays of the Cleveland team and upon these three pitchers, with the aid of Speaker, would depend the showing of the Cleveland team in the American league this season. Lee Fohl, the leader of the rejuvenated Indiana, has fooled a lot of wise ones in developing Starley Coveleskie and Coumbe, a southpaw.

"What's the matter with the

"What's the matter with the Browns?" is the cry out in St. Louis. Before the season began the St. Louic club looked like one of the best teams in the American league. But to date Fielder Jones combination of St. Louis Feds and American leaguers have been playing second division baseball. Their pitching has been poor and their hitting weak.

Johnny Evers recently told how he discovered Jeff Pieffer of the Robins was a great pitcher. "I have batted against Pieffer for three years," began Johnny, "but it was not until I played behind him on the trip to the coast that I discovered what a wonderful pitcher he is. Give us Pfeffer and the Braves will win the pennant in a walk."

Charley Weiner has another menager. Since Charles Augustus started in to make a living at boxing he has used up a young army of men selecting managers. Danny Sullivan is the latest. He takes the place of Scotty Montieth, who held the reins just two months. Danny announces that the eccentric Newark beau will box anybody in the world except Jacques Dillon. Charles says that wicked Dillon is no sad boxers friend.

Pitcher Ernie Koob, the southpaw of the Browns of whom much was expected this season, is ill in St. Louis with pleurisy and as he is of rather delicate constitution he is not likely to be of much service to his club for some time to come.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Washington, D. C., May 19.—In attendance and interest the national rille matches to be held at State Camp near Jacksonville, Florida, next October, promise to exceed any of its predecestors. Active preparations, both in Washington and in Florida, are being made for the matches and by the time the ranger officer commands "commence firing," everything will be in readiness for the shooting of the famous competitions. Capt. Wm. C. Harliee, U. S. marine corps, has been detailed by the secretary of war as assistant executive officer of the matches and is getting things in shape for his duties in Florida. Adjutant General J. Clifford R. Foster of Florida, is also at work on preparations for the contests and is having the range placed in good condition for one visiting riflemen.

The matches will continue through

academies at West Point and Annapolis represented by a team. These institutions have not had a team in the matches for a number of years. It is also hoped that the navy, which was not represented last year, will have a team this year.

The national matches were instituted in 1903 by congress as an incentive to promote skill in individual and team marksmanship among the army, navy and marine corps and citizens and annual or bi-ennial rifle matches have been held ever since. The matches bring together the crack shots of the government military and inval services, the National Guard and government civilian rifle clubs, as the members of the National Guard and government civilian rifle clubs and the members of the teams are selected by a system of preliminary trials.

Since the development of civilian rifle practice through the organization of rifle clubs, much interest in the matches now exists among persons in all walks of life all over the country, and information is reaching here from individuals in various states that they plan to attend the matches. Representation is expected from the thousand and twelve rine clubs now organized and actively at work on rifle ranges all over the country.

Interest in the national matches beginning October 20th will be sustained throughout by the action of the national hoard of promotion of rifle practice in listing the national team match last on the program instead of winding up the tournament with the national pistol match. Heretofore the riflemen began to scatter after the team match was over and there was not much interest in the pistol match. The order of firing has been changed so that the national individual match will be shot first, followed by the national pistol match, closing with the national pistol match, the program in the riflemen will remain until the finish.

If the border situation continues to require the presence of large bodies of troons competitions under authority of congress.

Riflemen the country over, both civilian and service marksmen, are looking forward with interest to the competitions. Last year at State Camp, Florida, forty-four teams from the carmy, marine corps and the National Guard of practically all the state participated, and this year even more teams are expected. The department has provided for the entrance of a team from the coast artillery of the army, which will make three teams for the army branch of the service. Efforts will te made to have the government

SPAIN IS-SUFFERING MUCH FROM THE ECONOMIC STRAIN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madrid, May 19.—Spain, in spite of her remoteness from the present conflict and of the cordial relations which she continues to maintain with all the belligerents, is beginning to suffer from the economic strain of the war. During the last month there have been strikes or threats of strikes in every district of the country. In Satalonia, in Valencia, at Lt Union, and Logrono there have been serious distribances caused by high prices and unemployment.

In Cordoba the mayor assembled workmen and their families to the number of 10,000 in the bull ring and gave to each a ration of food. The distress is said to be widespread and likely to increase. The scarcity of foodstuffs and other articles cannot easily be relieved by imports from abroad, owing to the rise in freight rates.

The farmers, and especially the vine [BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

easily be relieved by imports from abrond, owing to the rise in freight rates.

The farmers, and especially the vine growers, are in need of sulphate of copper for their crops. If this sulphate of copper proper is not forthcoming the vines will die of mildew and a prosperous industry, representing more than a third of the total wealth of the nation, will be ruined.

For want of steam coal, many blast furnaces, foundries and factories are working on short time; some threaten to close and some have close already. Fishing trawlers in Santona cannot put to sea for want of coal. To save the fishing industry from ruin 2,940 tons of coal per month are said to be required, while the whole of Spanish industrial needs for the next tweive months could be met by 1,500,000 tons.

Madison, Wis., May 19.—Non-resident students have until June 5 to file applications for non-resident scholarships at the university under a law passe; by the last lexislature increasing the tuition fee. Seventy-five "legislative scholarships" for non-resident students will be granted next year to 5 percent of the non-residents in the university. The higher tuition law, which goes into effect next September, makes provision for these scholarships. There are 1,482 non-resident students at the university. The statute requires that these exemptions be made "upon the basis of merit to be shown by suitable tests, examinations or scholastic records and continued high standards of scholastic attainments" The bill was fathered in the last legislature by Assemblyman George P.
